Dear Parents,

Happy Pudsey Day! It's been wonderful to see all of the children in their spotty clothing and Pudsey ears to support this year's Children in Need. We've all had a great day in school raising money for such a worthy charity. Thank you for all of your kind donations...we do not have a final figure to share with you yet but it looks as though we have raised a record amount today. Well done, everyone!

This week has been Anti-Bullying week and throughout the week, we have used lessons and assemblies to raise awareness of bullying and teach children how to prevent it and respond to it. The responses from the children have been superb and, in keeping with our No Outsiders ethos, they are all fully aware that no form of bullying is ever tolerated in school. We have been impressed with their contributions to class discussions - as one child explained to me, "If every school learned about No Outsiders the way we do at school, there would be far less bullying anywhere and if there was bullying, it would be challenged and stopped." Each child in school has been awarded with their own anti-bullying wrist band to celebrate how well they have shown anti-bullying practice through the week.

Next week, we are excited about welcoming children from one of the other schools in Excelsior to Green Meadow. They will be spending the day in The Studio and taking part in a special art project with Mrs Smith, our expert art teacher. I'm sure they will love it as much as all of the children at Green Meadow do.

We hope you have a good time at the Christmas Fayre after school today and are able to stock up on some early stocking fillers.

Have a great weekend.
Miss Arrowsmith

This Anti-Bullying Week, let's come together and reach out to stop bullying.
