Dear Parents,

Thank you to all of the Year 3 parents who attended maths workshops this week. It is always wonderful to welcome parents into school and we can see from your evaluations how useful you found these and how you will use the ideas you were given to support your child at home. We appreciate all of the support that you as parents provide at home as it is through our strong home-school partnership that we can support all of the children to be the very best they can be! Thank you also to Mrs Whettell and Miss Palmer for running the workshops.

Each week we hold celebration assemblies in school to celebrate the children's achievements over the week. We celebrate all of the children who have gone above and beyond and received hot chocolate nominations as well as our great mathletes who have been working hard on mathletics at home, our orators who have demonstrated great oracy skills and all of the children who have used spelling shed to practise their spellings. This week, we also celebrated all of the children who have filled up their reading bookmarks with signatures to show that they have been reading every night at home. As you know, when the children have filled their bookmarks with signatures, they receive a raffle ticket and get entered into a draw to win a book from our famous book vending machine. Well done to our winners this week...you can see how excited they were to choose their books as they walked past my office back from the library to school. I hope this picture makes you smile as much as it made me smile this morning!

Next week is SATs week for all of the children in Year 6 and I would like to wish them all the very best of luck. We are all exceedingly proud of how hard they have been working and how exemplary their learning behaviours are and we know they will shine next week just as they do each and every week.

Have a great weekend, everyone.

Miss Arrowsmith

The NSPCC offers some really good practical advice for how to teach children to keep safe online at home which can be accessed by following this link.

Staying safe the SMART way online

SAFE

Keep safe by being careful not to give out personal information – such as your full name, email address, phone number, home address, photos or school name – to people you are chatting with online.

M
